Pair of Youngsters From El Paso Pass Through City on Their Way to Altoona, a Journey of 1,500 Miles.

Elia Burns, 6 years old, and her haby brother, "Kid" Burns, 5 years old, arrived in St. Louis last night on their way to Altoona, Pa., after traveling more than 300 miles alone, completing only half of a fourney of more than 1,500 miles which they are making unaccompanied. They came from El Paso, Tex.

The tots arrived at Union Station on an Iron Mountain train at 7:30 p. m.

Passenger Agent Tommy Wall of the Pennsylvania read, who had been instructed to meet them, took charge of the baby passengers and placed them on a Fennsylvania train, on which they departed for Altoona at 8:15.

Around each child's neck was a tag, upon which was written their names, ages, their starting point and destination. The children will join their father, George Burns, who is now living at Altoona.

"Kid" Burns, although only 5 years old, displayed mu.h knowledge for one so young. He seemed perfectly at home and made many inquiries about things that attracted his attention in the station.

He said he didn't have any first name, but that everybody called him "Kid," and he guessed that was his name.

His sister, being of a quiet and unassuming disposition, corrected her brother several times and told him that he talked too much. The boy waived her advice, however, and entertained a large number of passengers and station attaches with his conversation.
